THE EDUCATION SHOW
28 FEBRUARY - 1 MARCH 2008 • NEC BIRMINGHAM

Early Years Professionals can:

- Find 1000s of resources for you to try, compare and buy for pre-schools and the foundation stage
- Get your questions answered by the National Strategies and the DCSF about the Early Years and Foundation Stage renewed frameworks and how you can adapt your lesson plans to incorporate them
- Talk about the latest issues affecting the sector at the Early Years Zone information point run by the Pre-School Learning Alliance
- Attend one of the many early years specific seminars within the CPD Programme
- Join in the free, fun and interactive NES Arnold Early Years Workshops

Primary teachers can:

- Get help integrating the new literacy and mathematics frameworks into your lesson plans from the Primary National Strategies and the DCSF
- Find thousands of resources from across the curriculum for key stage 1 and 2 pupils
- See practical demonstrations on how you can use ICT to support teaching and learning within the ICT & Software Zones
- Watch live demonstrations involving exhibitors, practitioners and pupils in the new Primary in Practice feature
- Participate in best practice workshops focussed on reading and literacy within the new Learning by Reading feature

Primary in Practice

Primary teachers can join in with presentations and demonstrations to help you experience a diverse array of resource ideas. Brought to the Show by exhibitors in partnership with practitioners, this is your opportunity to share best practice and take the information back to the classroom.

Secondary teachers can:

- Source new resources to help you plan for the implementation of the new curriculum
- Participate in free practitioner and exhibitor led workshops within the new Secondary Skills feature
- Visit the SSAT stand for advice on any issues affecting your school
- Learn from experts within the SSAT and other secondary CPD seminars
- Relax and network with your peers within the Secondary Lounge

Secondary Skills

Secondary Skills comes to The Education Show to provide a focal area of the Show for secondary teachers. Here you watch live interactive workshops brought to the Show by the SSAT and many of our leading exhibitors.

BESA Information Point

Looking for help finding your way around the Show? Or simply wanting advice on the latest resources on the market? Then a visit to the British Education Suppliers Association (BESA) information point is a must. Here you will get up to date advice whatever level of education or subject area you teach.

Education Show Conferences

This year optimise your visit by registering for one of our intensive, policy specific conferences that will give you in-depth information on crucial aspects of teaching policy and practice from renowned speakers.

For more information and to book your sessions
Visit www.educationshow-conferences.com

Sponsored by:

The Leadership Lounge

2008 is a major year of change and with changes come challenges particularly for school leaders.

Within the Lounge you can:

- Enter the BESA prize draw and win £5,000 of resources for your school
- Make your contribution to the education debate – complete the BESA questionnaire to inform policy makers about how you feel, and maybe win £500 worth of resources

You can also:

- Relax with a free cup of coffee
- Network with your community
- Think about all the innovative and exciting resources that you have seen at the Show
- Find out what BESA members have to offer
- Discuss the latest issues with your colleagues

Sponsored by the British Educational Suppliers Association (BESA), the Leadership Lounge is open to the following: Headteachers, Deputy/ Assistant Heads, Bursars and School Business Managers.

Subject Association Advice Centre

Do you have a specific question related to a curriculum subject? Would you like advice on new resources available?

Then a visit to the Subject Association Advice Centre is a must. You will find the following associations:

- ALL (Association of Languages Learning)
- ATM (Association of Teachers of Mathematics)
- ASE (Association for Science Education)
- Design and Technology Association
- Geographical Association
- Historical Association
- NATE (National Association of Teachers of English)
- MA (Mathematical Association)

My Show –

www.education-show.com/myshow

This new online planning tool makes it easier than ever to find your way around the Education Show. Just enter your subject area or particular resource interests and My Show will generate a personalised floorplan based on your criteria. Bring this along to the show as a handy route planner!

Learning by Reading

The Education Show 2008 is a supporter of the National Year of Reading.

Watch, listen, learn and discuss literacy in the classroom within the Learning by Reading feature.

Experience live demonstrations from authors, publishers and teachers to help you re-engage your pupils in reading and help you plan for the National Year of Reading.

See new published resources launched at the Show and discover how they can enhance your lesson plans.

Primary in Practice & Secondary Skills

These two new features have been designed to help you make the most of your visit to the Show.

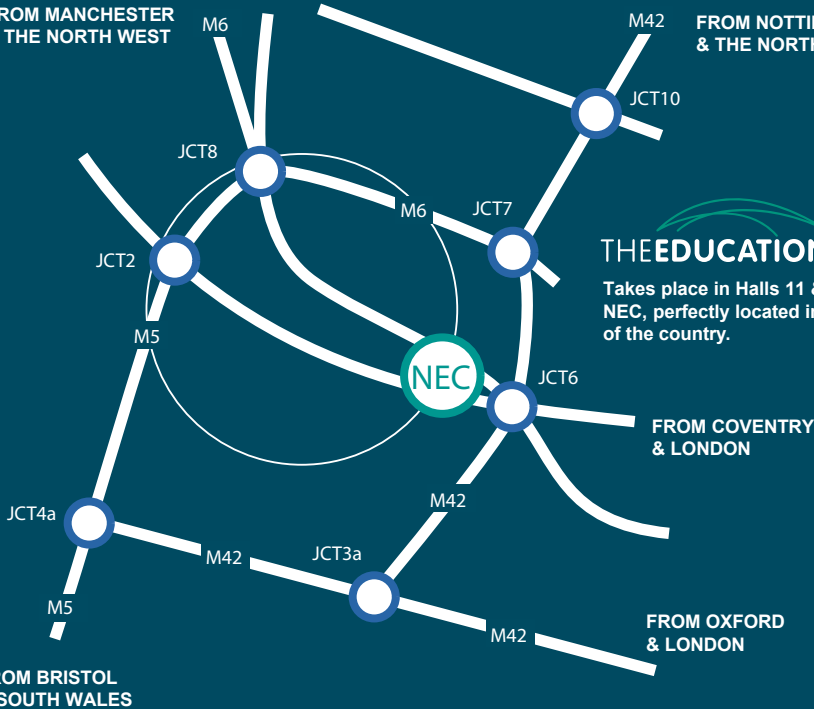

Both areas will contain presentations and demonstrations to help you experience a diverse array of resource ideas brought to the Show by exhibitors in partnership with practitioners.

Watch pupils interacting with resources and take this information back to your classrooms.
